Purpose: BACStud 2019 is a part of logical and practice education centred on student; it is a sequel of the student's implication in projects, mobility and entrepreneurial activities. This Symposium proposes to create a friendly environment, a bridge between students and mentoring professors with similar concerns, from all over the country but also with international extension, for a future collaboration.

Objectives:
- Creation of a friendly work environment, favourable to create daring "thunderstorms of ideas", without fear of mistakes, which brakes creativity;
- Discovering some potential talents among the participants with disposition for research and innovation;
- Training skills and competencies to write scientific articles and public presentation of ideas in an attractive form;
- Encouraging participants in research work, innovation, development and application of the results;
- Co-optation with outstanding personalities of the Romanian education, as well as of representative of some institutions and local firms in the event;
- Dissemination of the best articles through publication in Agora International Journal of Masters Studies review and in other periodicals.

Sections:
- Section of engineering;
- Section of juridical sciences;
- Section of administrative sciences;
- Section of economical sciences;
- Multidisciplinary section of Phd students;
- International section of English language for students and pupils (it is possible to work poster);
- Multidisciplinary special section for pupils;
- Practice – demonstrative applications section, simulations and "Expo_BACStud 2019".
